Invitation

On behalf of the American Association of Organic Geochemistry - ALAGO - we are pleased to invite you to participate in the 15th Latin American Congress on Organic Geochemistry. The ALAGO Congress has traditionally been held biennially since 1988 and has established itself as a forum for discussion about the most relevant themes in the Organic Geochemistry field. To date, about 2.000 works have been presented by leading researchers from 30 different countries in the fourteen conferences held.

The 15th Congress of ALAGO will be held on December 3 – 8, 2016 at the Universidad EAFIT in Medellin, Antioquia, Colombia. The city of Medellin has been chosen to host the event thanks to its physical, social, educational and cultural renewal. Also, its public policy for science, technology and innovation places the region as a leading development center in Latin America in the near future. The congress represents a unique opportunity to explore a broad spectrum of new developments in organic geochemistry.

The organizers, collaborators and sponsors of this event, especially the Universidad EAFIT and its Department of Earth Sciences are strongly committed to the promotion of high-level scientific discussions, and a socially memorable experience for all attendees.

We hope to enjoy your scientific contributions to the congress, and we take this opportunity to thank all institutions and individuals from the industry and the academia who are actively working towards a successful achievement of our 15th ALAGO Congress.

We look forward to seeing you in Medellin in December.
